Bank of Ireland UK provides sole funding for new 60-bed care home in Broxham, Scotland

Bank of Ireland UK has recently provided exclusive funding to construct and operate the 60-bed Holmesview care home in Broxburn, Scotland. Holmesview was developed by Randolph Hill Care Homes Ltd, whose offices are based in Edinburgh.

Commenting on the deal Pat Tierney, Relationship Director, Healthcare Division at Bank of Ireland UK said: ‘This is the fifth care home project we have partnered on with Randolph Hill Care Homes Limited, and we are delighted to be their sole funder on all these developments. The company has a robust outlook and we look forward to continuing this partnership with them on future developments.’

Peter McCormick, Managing Director of Randolph Hill Care Homes Limited, added: “The philosophy of the Randolph Hill group for all of our homes is to provide competent, skilled and empathetic individual care. It is well known that we pride ourselves on our warm, inclusive approach to care and it is on this basis we have also developed our relationship with Bank of Ireland UK, who bring a high level of qualified expertise and knowledge to the relationship. They have assisted us in achieving our business objectives and we look forward to them contributing on future business ventures.”
